

POSITION IS DEFINED BY LORD SALISBURY

BRITISH RIGHTS IN AFRICA TO BE UPHELD.

France Is Fairly Warned—At the Mansion House Banquet at London the Premier Says Trade Must Pursue an Unchecked Course on the Niger, Nile and Zambesi.

London, Nov. 10.—The brilliancy of the gathering at the lord mayor's banquet at the guildhall Tuesday evening was somewhat marred by the tokens of mourning for the late duchess of Teck.

The marquis of Salisbury was greeted with several minutes' of continuous cheering. He began by deploring the engineers' dispute, which he said "involves the future prosperity or disaster of the country," but added that he was glad to say there was a renewed prospect that the board of trade's intervention would prove successful.

After referring to the conduct of the troops on the Indian frontier and warmly praising the conduct of the Anglo-Egyptian expedition in the Sudan campaign, the premier came to the leading passage in his speech, introducing the tangled question of the Niger and the conflicting claims and interests of Great Britain and France in that section of West Africa. He said:

"It might not achieve the general conciliatory process desired if I entered frankly into all the negotiations between the powers respecting Africa. We are all aware of the great extent of territory cast loose during the last twenty years in Africa and put up as the object of acquisition for several enterprising governments. The negotiations that are proceeding will possibly continue a long time. We desire that territory to be governed on strict principles of right and with a constant regard to its prosperity and to the interests of the empire. We do not desire unjust and illegitimate achievements, and we do not wish to take territory simply because it would look well to paint red on the maps.

"Our objects are strictly business. We wish to extend commerce, trade, industry and civilization; to throw open as many markets as possible and to bring together as many consumers and producers as possible, and to open the great natural highways and waterways of the continent. We wish trade to pursue an unchecked course on the Niger, the Nile and the Zambesi, and, in doing these things, while we wish to behave in a neighborly manner and to show due consideration for the feelings and claims of others, we are obliged to say that there is a limit to the exercise of this particular set of feelings, and we cannot allow our plain rights to be overridden."

In concluding his speech Lord Salisbury said: "One hope we have of preventing the competition of armaments among European powers ending in a terrible effort for mutual destruction, fatal to civilization, is that the powers may gradually be brought to act together in a friendly spirit as to all questions that may arise until at last they shall be welded into some international construction which will give the world, as the result of their great strength, a long spell of unfettered commerce, prosperous trade and continual peace."

PURGED OF THE PLAGUE.

Southland Shakes Off the Yellow Fever and all Its Evils.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 10.—Joyous thanksgivings are being poured forth all over the southland. There is no more yellow fever. Business is being resumed. Schools are opening. Quarantines are lifting. Trains stop as of yore at all the stations on their routes, and out of it all the people see that their prosperity is not dead, but merely dormant, and is ready to spring into new life, refreshed and invigorated by the rest which has been forced upon it. Cool weather and frosts are sweeping over the infected districts now, and from Jackson, Miss., Mobile, Ala., Memphis, Tenn., New Orleans and other cities where the pestilence laid its blighting hand comes the cheering word that the end is at hand.

GOLD MEN IN SESSION.

Proclaim Bimetallism Dead—Issue a Manifesto.

New York, Nov. 10.—The semi-annual meeting of the executive council of the National Sound-Money league was begun here Tuesday. There were present President George E. Leighton, St. Louis; General Secretary E. V. Smalley, Henry Villard, Gustav H. Schwab, J. Kennedy Tod, H. P. Robison, Edwin Burritt Smith, J. K. Cowen, M. E. Ingalls, J. W. Norwood, W. C. Cornwall and Treasurer A. B. Hepburn.

A committee comprising Louis R. Ehrlich, Mr. Leighton, Secretary Smalley, Gustav H. Schwab and William C. Cornwall was appointed to prepare a declaration on international bimetallism to the effect that bimetallism is dead and that gold should be the standard of the country. When the committee resumed its session Mr. Ehrlich read the following address:

"The executive committee of the National Sound-Money league, in behalf of its members throughout the United States, issues the following address:

"International bimetallism as a world possibility is dead. Let us recognize this. The international bimetallism commission, appointed under the St. Louis pledge of the Republican party, have made strenuous efforts on behalf of this policy. Those efforts have proved futile. The commercial necessities of the world have demonstrated that a dual standard is commercially unacceptable and in the present stage of civilization impossible. The hour has come it seems to us when a national recognition of this fact is necessary.

"The situation demands a definite, clear, unequivocal declaration that international bimetallism is a dream of the past. The United States must proclaim their acceptance of the 'world fact' and plant themselves finally on the single gold standard. The proclamation of this monetary position will quicken our commerce, increase foreign investments and make permanent and prosperous conditions which have begun to manifest themselves in our country.

"We invite the friends of 'sound money' and all who would contribute to the well being and safety of our commercial life to join in bringing about the unmistakable declaration that now and henceforth the monetary system of the United States shall rest on the single gold standard."

The next meeting of the league will be held in Washington during January, 1898.

TRY TO ESCAPE DEATH.

Mrs. Augusta Mack and Martin Thorn Each Eager to Confess.

New York, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Augusta Mack, eager to save herself from the electric chair, has decided to confess to her part in the murder of William Guldsuppe and thereby insure the death penalty for Martin Thorn, her accomplice in the terrible crime.

Early Tuesday morning, when Thorn and his lawyers, William T. Howe and Joseph Moss learned that the woman intended to send their client to the death chair they acted, and it is announced on excellent authority that Thorn's plea of not guilty is to be withdrawn and substituted by a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree, which carries a life sentence. In case this move is not accepted by the state, Thorn will turn confessor, too, and will go on the stand and swear that Mrs. Mack was the principal in the murder and he an accessory.

Thorn's jury was selected Monday and the trial was actually under way, several witnesses having been heard Tuesday.

A GEORGIA ASYLUM GOES UP IN SMOKE

ONE THOUSAND NEGRO INMATES IN PERIL.

Only One Death Is Reported—State Building at Milledgeville Badly Damaged by Flames—Inmates Rescued With Difficulty—Heavy Burden For the Taxpayers.

Milledgeville, Ga., Nov. 10.—At noon Tuesday flames burst through the roof of the eastern wing of the negro building at the Georgia lunatic asylum and baffled the combined powers of the fire departments of Milledgeville and Macon until it completely laid waste the structure in which the state had housed nearly 1,000 colored lunatics.

Without a moment's delay after the fire was discovered the guards were summoned to the scene, the huge gates flung wide open, the cell doors burst loose and the hundreds of negro lunatics driven out of the door of the building into the yards to the rear of the building, where they were guarded until other buildings could be vacated for their custody. Meantime they nudged together, shouting, singing and praying. Many of them were murderous lunatics who had been sent to the asylum instead of the gallows, and many were dangerous, depraved wretches little better than brutes.

The mad throng was driven into the corners of the yard, the men on one side and the women on the other, and were guarded by platoons of attendants. The asylum fire apparatus was brought out and the men within five minutes after the alarm was sounded had a stream pouring upon the roof. The fire had originated in the attic of the eastern wing, which is the apartment for the colored women. The firemen worked diligently for an hour and a half, but finding that their efforts were vain a telegram was sent to Macon asking the fire department of that city be sent to the rescue.

Within half an hour Chief Monroe Jones of the Macon department had an engine and apparatus on a flat car and a special train brought them and fifteen or twenty firemen to Milledgeville within an hour's time. When they arrived on the scene the crowds of lunatics had been carried out of the way and safely housed, one patient, Rebecca Arnold, falling dead on the way.

Chief Jones of the Macon department quickly turned his force to work upon the flames, which by this time were advancing well across the center structure and upon the southern "L" of the building. Notwithstanding all efforts, the flames spread to all parts of the structure and the institution is practically a wreck, involving a loss of about $90,000 to the state.

Owing to the emergency of the case the buildings must be re-erected at once, which will come as a heavy burden upon the tax-payers. The present tax rate in Georgia is the highest it has ever had, so much so that the legislature in session is debating the repeal of an appropriation of $400,000 to the public-school fund.

SAGASTA SENDS A MESSAGE.

Strong Declaration of Spain's Friendship for the United States.

Madrid, Nov. 10.—In response to a cable message from a non-official American source Senor Sagasta, the premier, has sent the following cabled declaration through Senor Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister at Washington: "So far from seeking a pretext to declare war against the United States, Spain would regard it as a great misfortune to be given the occasion for such an unhappy resolution. Animated as it is by the most amicable sentiments toward the great republic, Spain hopes of America that the latter will do its utmost to fortify sentiments of friendship for the sake and welfare of both countries, while at the same time respecting the rights of Spain."

THE COAL STRIKE MAY BE ADJUSTED

MINERS OF ILLINOIS EXPECT A SETTLEMENT.

Tacit Truce Already Made—Convention at Streator Expected to Mark the End of the Troubles—President Ratchford's Warning—Gov. Tanner Takes a Firm Stand.

Coal City, Ill., Nov. 10.—While the threatened importation of Chinese miners by the General Wilmington Coal Company is assuming form the miners of the northern district of Illinois are exerting efforts for a settlement that will nullify all the warlike preparations and place all the men back at work on more advantageous terms than they have had in recent years. Long strides toward peace have been taken in the past few days, and sanguine leaders predict that the Streator convention may end the strike in Illinois.

Before W. D. Ryan, secretary of the Illinois division United Mine Workers left Braidwood he announced to the men that a tacit truce with the big operators' combine had been effected. He declared that the shipment of Chinese miners will be withheld until the action of the convention is made public. Should the men decide to make suitable terms with the operators he expressed the opinion that the General Wilmington Coal Company's contract with Wah Hing and Woo Gow for 800 coolies will be abrogated.

Developments of the past forty-eight hours are in accord with his statements. Important adjustments have been made with independent companies that augur an ending of the strike with great concessions to the union miners. Five hundred men returned to work in the Braceville mines, operated by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway. They will receive 77½ cents a ton mined over seven-eighths-inch screens, 2 cents a ton more than had previously been conceded by any big corporation. Two hundred men are working in the independent mine of the Wilmington Star Coal Company, and are paid 81½ cents a ton, which is the Springfield scale for which the Illinois men struck.

RATCHFORD WARNS MINERS.

Urges Them to Prepare for Another Wage Struggle That Is Near.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 10.—National President M. D. Ratchford of the United Mine Workers' union was in Pittsburg Tuesday on his way to Streator, Ill., to attend a convention of striking miners. While here he addressed the convention of miners of the Pittsburg district. He made a passionate appeal to the miners either to make good their promise to contribute ten per cent of their earnings to fight W. P. De Armit or to call off the strike at De Armit's mines. He said:

"I am going to Illinois, where there is a very stubborn fight on, and I hope to be able to find a way of settlement. Both operators and miners are determined and will not give in. I am sorry to see this, and I go to try to change it. I am hoping to see better discipline in the organization. At the present time the miners reserve the right to disobey the laws they have made themselves, and it is this which I want to see changed.

"There is another struggle coming just as sure as I am here. In less than sixty days the present scale of wages will expire. It is your duty to be prepared to meet the operators in such a manner as to be able to enforce your demands. From the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania to Wheeling, and from Lake Erie to Alabama, the miners are organizing. The only way we can keep the advantage we have gained is by presenting a solid front."

CONFERENCE WITH TANNER.

The Governor Says He Will Not Tolerate Chinese Miners.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 10.—A delegation of miners from this and northern Illinois districts called upon Gov. Tanner at the executive mansion Tuesday afternoon. Henry Cartwright, president of the Springfield sub-district, acted as spokesman, and laid before the governor the situation in the northern Illinois mining field, the proposed importation of Chinese labor and armed guards. The governor heard what the miners had to say, and asked many questions. In answer to the statements of the representatives of miners Gov. Tanner said: "I do not believe the operators of the northern district will attempt to bring pauper labor into this state and build barricades to protect them. I will not permit such a thing while I am governor. No armed forces can invade Illinois territory or do any shooting. Importation by corporations of pauper labor is at the root of all the labor troubles of our country. This is contrary to the theory and doctrines of our institutions, and ought not to be longer tolerated, and shall not be in this state to the extent of erecting barricades and protecting such labor by the use of rifles and Gatling guns."

ISLE OF NO VALUE TO THIS COUNTRY

HAWAIIAN ANNEXATION BE A MISTAKE.

Lieut. Frank Bostwick Speaks From Personal Knowledge at the Twilight Club's Meeting—Charming Entertainment at the Union Catholic League Hall.

Lieutenant Frank Bostwick, of the United States navy, told the members of the Twilight club about Hawaii last evening, and declared that the United States would not act wisely in annexing the island. His talk was exceptionally entertaining, and was greatly enjoyed. The meeting was the eighth regular session, and was held in the Hotel Myers ordinary. S. B. Smith presided. The topic for discussion was "Jefferson and Territorial Acquisition." Charles C. Russell presented a very interesting paper on "The Louisiana Purchase," while Victor P. Riedel spoke entertainingly of "Subsequent Acquisitions," and J. V. Norcross dealt with "The Annexation of Cuba and Hawaii."

City Attorney Horace McElroy spoke against the annexation of Hawaii and gave facts gleaned when he was in the U. S. naval service. In closing he said that Lieutenant Frank Bostwick was present, and as he had visited Hawaii, he would like to hear from him.

Lieutenant Bostwick's remarks were listened to with attention as they were exceptionally well turned. He had visited the island several times, he said, and did not favor annexation. Both Cuba and Hawaii would be elephants on the hands of the government, he insisted.

Need Coast Defenses. A standing army and a fleet of gun boats would have to be kept to protect the property, he said, and the government could spend the money to much better advantage in providing coast defenses. He said the residents of Hawaii were bright, intelligent people, but disease was wiping out the natives. None but natives could do manual labor and Chinese labor was imported. The people of the island were not satisfied with the present system, but the United States would gain nothing by owning the island. It would be of value to other countries only as a coaling station. It was a poor place for white men to live, although an interesting spot to visit.

Several years of service cruising among the islands of the Pacific had made Lieut. Bostwick familiar with his subject and many questions were asked by those present.

On motion of Dr. J. B. Whiting, Lieut. Bostwick was given a vote of thanks at the conclusion of his remarks.

Senator John M. Whitehead will lead the next meeting of the club, which will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 14. The subject of the next meeting was to have been Ralph Waldo Emerson, but in view of the fact that Henry George has recently died it was decided to take up the subject of taxation, with the late Mr. George's views as one of the subdivisions instead.

CHARGES AGAINST BANK EXAMINER

CHICAGO PAPERS TALK OF INVESTIGATION.

Chronicles Dispatch Says One Is Likely to Be Made, According to a Report Received From Madison—Milwaukee Journal Correspondent Talks With the Examiner.

A dispatch from Milwaukee to the Chicago Chronicle is as follows: Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9.—State Bank Examiner Kidd and his office are to be subjected to an examination, according to a report received from Madison tonight. The cessation of the examination is the failure of the Edgerton bank. This bank, it is claimed, was examined by Mr. Kidd in 1895 and again in 1896, and in both years, it is claimed, he discovered a shortage in the neighborhood of $100,000.

"He called the attention of the officers and the stockholders to the shortage and was told that it was the result of careless bookkeeping. All he did was to tell them to improve their methods of bookkeeping."

"The depositors of the defunct institution now claim that if he had done his duty according to law that they would not lose the large percentage of their savings which they will be compelled to sacrifice now."

What Mr. Kidd Says.

The Milwaukee Journal prints a dispatch from Madison, which says: "Bank Examiner Kidd is much worried over the Edgerton bank failure and he feels that the criticisms in the papers as to his conduct in the matter was unjust. He refuses to say anything for publication except that he has honestly and conscientiously done his duty and believes that he is in no way to blame."

"Mr. Kidd, under the statutes, now has nothing to do with the case. From the moment the receiver took charge the bank examiner's duty in connection with the institution ceased, Mr. Kidd says. His interest now, if any be his, he says, is personal, not official."

"That Mr. Kidd has reason to be a good deal worried over the Edgerton bank case is apparent from a few remarks he dropped. He took the oath of office April 25, 1895. In September following he examined the Edgerton bank and found what he thought to be 'merely careless bookkeeping' and called attention to it."

The Examiner's Foe

"Of course," says Mr. Kidd, "I did not suspect that there was anything criminally wrong or I should have exercised the fullest power given to me by the law, at once."

"By the way, the bank examiner's 'fullest power' under the statute is not very great, nor is it effective to save creditors from loss except in an indirect way. If the examiner has reason to believe that the capital is impaired, he must notify the stockholders to make it good, and upon failure so to do within thirty days must publish in the nearest paper a statement showing the 'actual condition' of the bank. Presumably this gives the depositors a chance to 'draw out' and creditors a chance to realize."

"Bank Examiner Kidd admits that developments show that there has probably been mismanagement in the bank for ten years."

CAUGHT IN A FOLDING BED

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burdick Have a Close Call.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burdick had a narrow escape at Chicago. Mr. Burdick's stage name is Earl Doty and the Chronicle tells the story as follows: Earl Doty and his wife owe their rescue from death under 530 pounds of folding bed to luck and some very vigorous screaming. In their rooms at the Scranton hotel, 332 Washington boulevard, early yesterday morning a great combination secretary, bookcase and bed toppled over on them and by good luck Mr. Doty was lying on his side. The breadth of his shoulders kept the bed apart, and to that fact alone it is due that a quick death did not follow. When the main section fell the legs of the bed section broke and the whole mass fell flat on the floor. Mr. Doty awakened to find himself pressed against the floor between the mattress and the main section of the bed. His wife woke in an almost suffocating position between the parts of the bed. Mr. Doty called loudly for help, and soon other roomers hurried to his door. It was locked, and he shouted to them to kick it in. Men and women kicked at the panels, and after a little the lock gave. A motley crowd in dress and undress burst into the room. It took right to lift the bed. They hauled out Mr. Doty, considerably bruised and cut, and then his wife. She was unconscious, and it took considerable effort and time to bring her to her senses."

LOTTERY FAKIRS IN JAIL HERE

SEND OUT FEWER CABBAGES

Volume of Shipments Is Decreasing Railway Men Say

Car load shipments of northern cabbages which have been daily passing through this city of late on the Chicago & Northwestern road have dropped off considerably in the last week. This is partly due to the making of it into sauer kraut and the storing by commission firms for winter shipment. The road has handled nearly double as much this year as they have in other years. This is due to the greater amount being raised. When the boom in the shipments were at the highest point on an average of a dozen cars were loaded by the different dealers daily.

ALL REPUBLICAN WORK.

A republican administration has completed the government's connection with the Pacific railroads by getting back every dollar of public money that was ever invested. It will be remembered by some of the older citizens that republican administration helped to make the arrangements for the building of the Pacific railroads, and that a republican administration saw them completed, and that in all these transactions the interests of the people have been carefully and intelligently guarded, while the benefit which has resulted to the country through this means of communication from ocean to ocean cannot be estimated, nor is the comparative cost of the road a circumstance. Now that the dual action has been consummated with credit to the government and the republican party, it is but natural that democratic editors who were willing to have the funding case settled at a loss of nine million of dollars a year ago should emit their regular wail.

WORKING FOR THE FARMERS.

$400,000,000 is a good deal of money to be sent out of the country every year for farm products which our own farmers could supply. Secretary Wilson estimates that nearly this sum was paid out last year by the people of this country for products of agriculture which they might have been supplied by our own farmers, if they would properly study public demands and vary their productions with this in mind. Mr. Wilson is proving himself a practical man. His effort to induce the farmers of the country to experiment with and begin the practical production of beet sugar is in marked contrast with that of Secretary Morton under the last administration.

The Mexican laborer didn't vote for Bryan and it seems hard that he should have the effects of Bryanism forced upon him. When he takes $5 in Mexican silver, for every dollar of which he has to work as hard as his American brother works for his gold dollar, and buys with it goods worth $2 in American gold, that is Mexican Bryanite prosperity. The workingmen of this country don't want any of it in theirs.

Mr. Bryan admits that times are improved, but says the cause is the famine abroad and the discovery of gold in the Klondike. He apparently forgets that double the amount of money has been expended in fitting out people to go to Klondike than has yet been taken out of the mines.

BOY ARRESTED FOR STEALING

Police Take Michael Burns and Lodge Him Behind Jail Doors.

Michael Burns an eighteen year old boy who resides near the corner of Walker and Williams streets was arrested yesterday afternoon by Chief Hogan and Sheriff Acheson and lodged in jail. The charge is that Burns, with others, robbed Fred Grundy's granary in the town of Janesville, some time during Monday night of several bags of oats. The guilty parties were tracked by a leaky bag. John Burns, a brother of the prisoner, was arrested at midnight last night and lodged in jail. The boys are fourteen and eighteen years of age respectively. This morning, in the municipal court, the defendants were held for trial in the sum of $500 bail each which sum they were unable to furnish. They were remanded to jail and will be brought up tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

SIMPLICITY ITSELF.

A SIMPLE HARMLESS REMEDY

Yet It Cures the Worst Cases of Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

Dr. Jennison, who has made a life study of stomach troubles, says: All forms of indigestion really amount to the same thing, that is, failure to completely digest the food eaten; no matter whether the trouble is acid dyspepsia or sour stomach, belching of wind, nervous dyspepsia or loss of flesh and appetite; a person will not have any of them if the stomach can be induced by any natural, harmless way to thoroughly digest what is eaten, and this can be done by a simple remedy which I have tested in hundreds of aggravated cases with complete success. The remedy is a combination of fruit and vegetable essences, pure aseptic pepsin and golden seal put up in the form of pleasant tasting tablets and sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. One or two of these tablets should be taken after meals and allowed to dissolve in the mouth and mingling with the food in the stomach digests it completely before it has time to ferment, decay and sour.

On actual experiment one grain of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest three thousand grains of meat, eggs and similar wholesome foods.

It is safe to say if this wholesome remedy was better known, by people generally, it would be a national blessing, as we are a nation of dyspeptics and nine-tenths of all diseases owe their origin to imperfect digestion and nutrition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a secret patent medicine, but a fifty cent package will do more real good for a weak stomach than fifty dollars worth of patent medicines add a person has the satisfaction of knowing just what he is putting into his stomach, which he does not know when widely advertised patent medicines are used.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, full sized packages 50cts. A little book on cause and cure of stomach troubles mailed free by addressing The Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

County Surveyor—PERRY F. BROWN To Fill Vacancy.

The meeting of the county board was called to order by Robert Moore, chairman, at 9:30 o'clock this morning. The roll call showed all members present except Messrs. Conly and Oram. The committee on equalization submitted its first report when Supervisor Powers reported as follows:

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Rock County.—Gentlemen:—Your committee on equalization have had under consideration the county assessment for 1897 and recommend as a basis of taxation the valuation of the county of Rock at eighteen million ($18,000,000) dollars to be divided among the town, cities and villages. The report was adopted.

Supt. Miller, from committee No. 2, reported, and the report was adopted.

The report of District Attorney Jackson showed the amount of money received for fines, forfeitures, penalties, and costs. Received from Dan Ennis as costs in the action of the State of Wisconsin vs John Ennis December 5, 1896 $100.00.

The Register's Shelves.

Supervisor Bailey from committee No. 7 reported on the matter of book shelves in the register of deeds office and moved the report's adoption. The report provides for addition iron roller shelves.

Supervisor Bowles moved to make the matter a special order for 2 p. m.

Supervisor Bailey, from committee No. 7, reported on general repairs, and moved the adoption of the report. Adopted.

Clerk McIntyre read certain correspondence in regard to payment of Rock county asylum bonds and coupons at the Metropolitan bank at Chicago.

Mr. Merrill stated that the bond contract was that the payments were to be made free of charge.

Supervisor Eager moved that the matter be referred to the county clerk and Mr. Merrill, to report at the January meeting. Adopted.

Poormaster Elected.

Supervisor Smith moved that the board proceed to the election of a superintendent of poor in place of George M. Appleby, for the Beloit district. The whole number of votes cast was 34, George M. Appleby receiving them all. Mr. Appleby was declared duly elected for the ensuing three years.

Supervisor Bear moved to elect a county surveyor to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late O. G. Bleedorn. The whole number of votes cast was 25, Perry F. Brown receiving them all. Mr. Brown was declared duly elected for the unexpired term.

Superintendent Wilder moved that the list of personal property be charged back to the several towns.

Superintendent Eager called for the reading of the contract between county and city on care of the court house park. The clerk read the document. Supt. Whitsett moved that the contract be referred to the district attorney for an opinion. An opinion was also asked for in relation to the jail lots.

The building committee reported that the new boiler for the court house had cost $1025; for removal of old boiler $281.89 had been paid, and $38 had been realized on the old boilers and book cases. The new floor in the boiler room cost $1301.89. A water closet, etc., in the jury room cost $76.49. The lengthening of the asylum smoke stack cost $175.59. Decorating the circuit court chamber and entrance was done at an expense of $29.71.

The matter of a new jail will come up at tomorrow's meeting.

Yesterday's Routine Work.

A petition from Register of Deeds Oscar D. Rowe, asking that provision be made for additional room for records, was referred to the building committee.

A petition from the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company, asking that certain taxes illegally assessed on property that was non-assessable, be refunded, was referred to the committee on tax certificates and illegal taxes.

A bill and statement from W. E. H. Macdonald asking the county to reimburse him for expenses to which he had been subjected to protect the title of a piece of property in the town of Plymouth and which expense was caused by a mistake were referred to the committee on illegal taxes.

Supt. Smith from the committee on general claims and examinations of insane, presented the bill of Dr. J. M. Evans, of Evansville for $50, for performing a surgical operation on Matt Sheehan, of Beloit, who was hurt by the cars. The bill was allowed Messrs. Barker, Gleason, Miller and Powers voting no.

Work On the Lawn.

Supervisor Bear introduced a resolution that the janitor of the court house in addition to his other duties attend to the mowing and sprinkling of the lawn about the court house. In introducing the resolution Supervisor Bear stated that he did so at the request of a number of citizens who resided south of the court house and whose lawns had been covered with dandelions which had sprung up from seed blown over from the court house lawn. The city had kept its part of the park in good shape and there was a great contrast between two sections of the park, as no water was used on the grass.

Janitor Nelson said the greater part of the work would come in the spring when there was the most work to be done inside the court house, and it would require all of one man's time to attend to that. Supervisor Bear's resolution was lost.

Supervisor Barker introduced a resolution instructing the building committee to take such action as they saw fit in regard to the care of the lawn about the court house. Adopted.

Supervisor Rathem moved that the board proceed to the election of a janitor. Adopted.

Supervisors Ross and Barker were appointed tellers.

L. M. Nelson received 33 of the 34 votes cast, and was declared elected.

The board then adjourned until this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

CUPID'S WORK DONE AND LOVE RULES

JOYOUS WEDDING BELLS RANG OUT TODAY.

George E. King and Miss Estella Bennett Wedded at Monroe—Walter Easton Spring of Milwaukee, and Miss Jessie Sherwood Take the Vows of Matrimony.

Surrounded by relatives and a few invited friends, Miss Estella Bennett of Monroe, and George E. King of this city, stood at the marriage altar this noon, at the Monroe home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Bennett.

Rev. E. H. Pence, of the local Presbyterian church, officiated. The rooms were tastefully decorated with potted plants and flowers. The bride was attired in her traveling dress.

After hearty congratulations the wedding repast was served. Numerous handsome and costly gifts bespoke the esteem of their friends, for of both the bride and groom much that is good may be said.

The bride has made this city her home, filling with credit, the position of teacher in the Jefferson school. Possessing the noblest attributes of womanhood, she is esteemed both at her former home at Monroe, and among her many friends in Janesville.

The groom is a Janesville man from birth and needs no introduction to Janesville people. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas King of 103 Locust street, and is a straight forward, energetic young man whose worth has won for him a place in the front ranks. He is the senior partner of the drug firm of George E. King & Co.

Mr. and Mrs. King left for Chicago on the afternoon train on their wedding trip, and on their return to this city they will make their home in one of the Waverly flats on North Main street.

Those who attended the wedding from this city were: Messrs. and Mesdames R. H. Barlow, J. F. Pember, O. G. Bennett and Thomas King.

Mesdames J. E. Watson, M. E. Richardson, John Wilcox, R. W. McLean, A. R. Talmadge and Charles Watson.

Misses Flora and Roberta McLean.

Messrs. Ross King and Ralph Sarasy.

Spring-Sherwood.

At 11 o'clock this morning at the South Academy street home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Sherwood was solemnized the marriage of their daughter, Miss Jessie O. Sherwood and Walter Easton Spring of Milwaukee. The bride and groom, unattended, took their places in one corner of the parlor before a beautiful bower of palms, ferns and chrysanthemums. Rev. Otto Humphreys, of St. Mark's Episcopal church, Milwaukee, performed the beautiful and impressive Episcopal service. Only relatives and immediate friends were present.

Congratulations of a warmth that bespoke the place the couple held in the hearts of the company were then offered and a wedding feast was served.

No bride and groom carry with their new life more good wishes than will be extended to Mr. and Mrs. Spring. Six years ago the bride arrived in Janesville with her parents who moved here from Baraboo and during the period of her residence in Janesville she has won wide popularity.

The groom, although somewhat of a stranger to the citizens of Janesville, is an upright young man of the Cream City, who at present holds the position of bookkeeper in the office of the Standard Paper company.

He is a young man of much force of character and a gentleman whose friendship is as valuable as it is pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. Spring left for Milwaukee on the noon train where they will go to housekeeping at 835 Bartlett street.

Among those present at the wedding from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Spring of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Frothingham of Lancaster, Misses Lillian Sherwood, Jennie Froth, and Irene Hughes of Milwaukee, David Swaty and J. Fry of Milwaukee.

INTERCHANGEABLE MILEAGE

Agents of the Wisconsin Lines Receive Instructions.

The ticket agents and conductors of the roads that have adopted the interchangeable mileage credit system are being sent instructions as the new system will be put into operation on Monday, Nov. 15. The new system has several distinctive features that commend themselves to the traveling public, especially to commercial travelers. Over thirty western roads, including the St. Paul, Wisconsin Central, Northwestern and the Green Bay and Western, have adopted the new system. The states covered are Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Northern Michigan and parts of Missouri and the Dakotas.

Under the new system the first requisite step is to purchase a credential ticket for 50 cents, salable at the points where the mileage tickets are sold. The traveler then purchases local tickets, not the regulation mileage ticket, and on presenting his credential is furnished with a receipt for each local ticket. When the distance of 2,000 miles is completed, as certified to by the receipts, the traveler is refunded 1 cent per mile.

MINISTERS GO HOME AS WORK IS DONE

LUTHERAN CONFERENCE IS AT AN END.

Next Meeting Will Be Held Either at Portage or Horicon—Rev. J. C. Koerner Is Surprised and Presented With a Handsome Bookcase Last Evening.

The German Lutheran conference closed at noon today, and many of the delegates left on the noon trains. The meeting was a very profitable one, although the business was confined to a discussion of doctrinal issues.

The next conference will be held either at Portage or Horicon—in all probability at the former place.

A "social session" that was marked by very pleasant features, was held at St. Paul's parsonage after the regular session last night. Some weeks ago, Rev. J. C. Koerner, pastor of St. Paul's church, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his work in the ministry. Plans had been quietly made by the visiting ministers to give him a surprise in honor of that occasion, and last night the plan was carried out. The ministers went to the parsonage in a body, and after they had sung a song, Rev. Mr. Koerner was led to the center of the gathering. Rev. Mr. Haueser then presented him with a handsome revolving book case, in a neat speech. After another song, Rev. Mr. Koerner responded, voicing his thanks, and a merry social hour followed.

ODE FROM HAFIZ.

Love from my heart awoke to light.
Thine was the deed, oh, love, my love!
Vision of hope to wasting night.
Thine was the deed, oh, love, my love!

Sweet is the day in glory bright,
Day unto day more passing bright.
Sweet is the day, yet sweeter night.
Thine is the deed, oh, love, my love!

Yesterday morn when dawn was white
Entered my soul's desire to plight
Promise of love and love's delight.
Thine was the deed, oh, love, my love!

"Yield me a kiss," cried I, "forthright!
Silver and gold thy kiss requite."
Oh, the sweet lips, the smile of might!
Thine was the deed, oh, love, my love!

Now, lackaday, the doleful plight!
Silver and gold have taken flight.
Treason is wrought in love's despite.
Thine is the deed, oh, love, my love!

Hafiz hath lost, hath lost the fight.
Tears of his heart's blood blind his sight.
Hafiz is fallen. O'er him write,
"Thine is the deed, oh, love, my love!"

—Walter Leaf in New York Tribune.

PREPOSTEROUS.

"Where's Nedward?" some one asked the foreman, one August night when the boys were gathered around the supper table after a hard day in the branding pens.

"Sent him over to the river with the horses for Mack," replied the foreman. "He won't be back for four days."

"Oh, a picnic," said the first speaker. "Not quite. It's a long stretch without water."

"Beats branding calves," insisted the other.

"Yes, if you're built that way."

Ten miles or so from the ranch the circling buzzards looked down upon a prostrate man. When the sun set, a cool breeze sprang up, and the man stirred and groaned. He lay upon an elevated mesa, far from any house or tree or watercourse. Here and there a stunted soap weed showed above the level of the plain. A mile to the eastward a band of horses were quietly grazing, and a keen eye might have detected that one was saddled. The crisp buffalo grass about the man was crushed down and broken off. Twenty feet away a dog hole showed a fresh hoof mark, and in the earth beside the man was a broad mark made by the cantle of the saddle as the horse rolled over.

It was nearly dark, and the stars were shining when the man finally opened his eyes intelligently.

"Boys, give me a drink," he said. "Water! water!" he repeated.

Low in the north fitful lightnings played about a pillar of cloud. If the cloud drifted this way, he might get water; if not, he would go dry. Certainly no man's hand would minister to him that night. Soon he realized the situation.

"I was stunned—my leg is broken," said he. "I'll lie here until I rot before they will find me. O God, water!"

The cloud drew nearer, grew larger and put out the stars. As it slid down from the mountain and advanced across the plain, rumbling thunder gave promise of imminent rain. Painfully the man stripped off his coat and spread it beside him to catch the water. His hat had fallen and lay several feet beyond his reach.

Quickly the cloud spread overhead. Following a jarring roll of thunder, a few big drops fell—one on the face of the thirsty man. And that was all. A brisk west wind wiped the sky clean in a moment, while the man yet waited expectant. The stars shone out bright and cold. The man shivered and cursed and drew the coat about him.

Toward morning he slept and dreamed. He heard the foreman's cheery summons, "Roll out, fellows," but when he sat up suddenly a twinge in his leg brought him back to facts—thirst, daylight, helplessness. He had been awakened by the chattering of the little marmot into whose hole the horse had stumbled, now come forth to view the damage done his home. The man drew his pistol and fired twice at the prairie dog.

"Missed at 20 feet," he muttered, lying down again. "I'll never tell that."

All night he had lain upon his back. Now, very slowly and with both hands clasping the injured leg, which was broken below the knee, he turned upon his face and reached out toward the hat. It was still several feet beyond him.

"I've got to get out of this," was his thought, "and it's going to hurt like hell. I'd better begin by going after my hat." And he went. It required time and fortitude to crawl ten feet on hands and knees, dragging the broken leg, but it was done at last. He reached the hat and lay down to take account of himself and his chances.

"Ten feet in an hour is 240 in a day. I would get to the ranch in about six months at that rate, if I could keep it up day and night. I've got to stay right here until the buzzards get me. If I had water, I wouldn't care if the devil got me. If I ever get water, I've got to get it today. By tomorrow I'll be too stiff and too silly. I know"—sitting up and looking around—"there's no water on this flat, for there isn't a hoof of stock in sight. Over toward the mountain there are water holes every spring, but they have been dry since June. By God," he said aloud, "that cloud last night emptied out somewhere before it got to me, and those holes may be full of water now and only three miles away. I could crawl three miles if I knew there was a drink at the finish—but they may be dry. Then I'll be three miles farther from the creek, and three miles farther off the trail when the boys come out to look me up. I suppose they will look me up—in about a week—when Mack comes over to see why the horses have not been sent. I'm getting silly already. My head throbs so, and my leg too. If I can get started once, I'll know enough to keep a-going, but how to decide I'll leave it to chance."

He placed his broad hat on the end of his quirt held upright, balanced it carefully and gave it a twirl.

"Now, if that side with the bullet-hole stops toward the south, I'll crawl toward home, and if it turns to the mountains, I will hunt the water holes. Hold on!" stopping the revolving hat and closing his eyes, he said in a very low voice: "O Lord, I don't know as one cowpuncher is much object to you, you got so many, but I never did much dirt only to Billy, and he was so mean himself, it served him right. If you will help me out of this scrape and make the hat stop at the right place, I'll never forget it. Amen."

Very earnestly then he balanced the hat and set it turning. After several revolutions it came to a stop, with the hole toward the mountains.

"The water holes it is, then," said he, and carefully noting the direction indicated, "That's rather more to the left than I would choose, but if you say so it goes."

Without delay, but without haste, he made his preparations for a great effort. Before deciding on a course he had whimpered a little. The shock and pain had unnerved him. There was now no more of that. He had a purpose and meant to execute it. With bandages made from portions of his clothing he bound up the leg to give it some support. He set his teeth down hard in a strip of leather cut from his shoe. Then fixing his eyes upon a landmark in the distance, which should remain in view as he moved over the plain, he "pulled his freight."

It would fatigue you to follow this man's trail as foot by foot and hour after hour he painfully progressed toward the water holes, tortured with thirst, beset by doubt whether he should not find them dry. Upon the desert a man, for lack of water, may perish in a few hours. In the cattle country they can and do live and suffer for days without it. This man did. He was only a common $40 a month man. If he did not get through, another would take his saddle and his bunk. To the company it mattered not at all whether the name on the pay roll was John Doe or Richard Roe. He had lived meanly, not always temperately. But he had a trait common to cowboys, a splendid American grit, and he got through. On the third day he dragged himself to the first of the water holes. It contained a small amount of brackish and muddy water. Beside it grew a stunted willow bush. Beneath the bush lay a sleeping calf. Here were all the elements necessary to insure his safety.

The man does not remember whether he first shot the calf or first slaked his thirst, or when the idea occurred to him of the perambulatory splints. But by the time he had eaten his second meal of veal, which followed very closely on the first, his plan was complete. He thinks he devoted about 24 hours to refreshments. During that time he kept the leg in wet bandages, greatly reducing the swelling.

It was a work of time to cut down the low branched willow with his jack-knife and to fashion a cane from the stoutest portion. From smaller branches he made a number of splints, and these he bound about the broken leg by rawhide thoughts cut from the calfskin and well soaked in the pool. The contraction of the rawhide in drying made a very strong and rigid support, extending from the foot to the knee, and upon this, with the help of the cane, he would walk. It was not springing. It was slow and painful motion, but by contrast with the three miles achieved in three days on hands and knees it seemed both rapid and easy. He covered the distance to the ranch in one day and night, coming in just when the foreman was calling, "Roll out."

The first thing he asked after the boys had put him in bed and cut off the rawhide was for somebody to shave him. He had a hard enough time for several weeks, but the doctor did not amputate the leg as he at first threatened to do. We never convinced this sawbones, though we showed him the rawhide splint, of the fact that the man walked 11 miles on a broken leg.

"Humbug," said he. "No such case on record. The thing is preposterous."

The first man who receives it without disliking it, will tell his friends. A few eat, tell him from coffee. It is as good as much. Children may eat it. It is sold in 15c and 25c tins. Try it. ## To Grocers.

We have direct proof that peddlers of washing-powders say that the stuff they're selling is "made in the same factory" as Pearlina—and that buying from them will save going to, or ordering from, the grocery store. Do you want people "saved" that. You have these same washing-powders in stock. Possibly you are giving them out, whenever you can, in place of Pearlina. You are trying to push them into notice; they are trying to crowd you out. You think you are "making more money on them." But will it pay you, in the end?

Send it Back. Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearlina." IT'S FALSE—Pearlina is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearlina, be honest—send it back. JAMES PYLE, New York.

WINTER NOTES.

Information Concerning Jackets and Blouses—Popularity of Velvet.

Some jackets are made of velvet, but cloth has, as usual, the preference. Jackets are often rich and very elegant, heavy embroidery being one of the leading features in their decorations, but they are nevertheless kept somewhat subdued in character. The revers and collar are frequently in velvet of some decided shade, contrasting brilliantly with the beige, mastic, gray or dark tint of the body of the garment.

Blouse jackets are being received with more graciousness than were the short, straight sacks which Paris tried to force upon a reluctant public last year. These blouses are only suitable for slender figures, as the baggy effect, particularly in the back, makes a full figure appear clumsy. On a slight figure the fullness is pleasing, and these blouses are made quite elaborate and trimmed in all sorts of ways with bands of ostrich plumage, chinchilla or blue fox, with jeweled buttons, lace and passementerie.

Velvet is an exceedingly fashionable material. It is worn in plaids, stripes and all fancy weaves, as well as plain, and corduroy is also largely used for bodices. Moire velvet is very beautiful, and is employed for both millinery and gowns, as is shirred velvet also, but this latter is less pleasing in effect, as velvet is too heavy a material to look well gathered.

Broche silks, having figures in strong relief, heavily ribbed silks and poplins of all sorts are enjoying great vogue.

The illustration given today shows a coat and a gown for a girl of 15 years. The coat is of light brown cloth in the redingote style. It opens at the right side of the skirt under a panel of chestnut brown plush. The bodice folds over diagonally and buttons at the left side, having a collar and revers of plush. The plain sleeves have plush cuffs. The gown of green cloth is cut in tabs around the foot of the skirt over darker green velvet, the tabs being fastened down by emerald buttons. The blouse bodice of green silk, to match the skirt, is partly covered by a bolero of green velvet, trimmed with emerald buttons. The close sleeves have velvet caps.

VARIOUS NOTES.

Shoes For Children—Toilet Hints—Tailor Made Costumes.

Children should always wear heelless boots and shoes with wide, square toes. When young children show an inclination to turn the ankles in walking, high laced boots are preferable to low shoes or slippers, as boots give a degree of support to the ankle joint. Fat, heavy children are slower in attempting to walk than are small, delicate ones, and there ought never to be any attempt to force or coax a child to bear weight on its feet before it displays the natural impulse to do so. When the legs and feet are strong enough to carry the body, the child will walk of its own accord.

After exercise of any sort which has flushed the face or caused it to perspire it should never be bathed in cold water, strong as the temptation is to indulge in such a refreshing ablution. Warm or hot water should be used, with fine soap, and

MOURNING COSTUME.

If the skin is chapped or burned at all it may be afterward sponged with rosewater and glycerin.

Tailor made costumes of cloth in which gown and outside jacket are of the same color and material are fashionable this winter. Jackets are more worn than straight skirts, which conceal a pretty figure and look bad on an ugly one, and are therefore not favored. Most jackets are rather short and fit closely behind, while in front they are straight. The hat which accompanies tailor made costumes is not necessarily of the same color.

The sketch given in today's issue shows a mourning costume of black vigne. The skirt is deeply faced on the outside with English crepe. The bodice is close fitting at the back, but drawn in to the waist by plaits in front and has crepe revers which open over a vest covered with coquilles of crepe. The valois collar, the cuffs and the belt are of crepe. The hat is composed entirely of crepe and is trimmed with bows and coques of crepe.

An English Umbrella Joke.

A gentleman calling at a hotel left his umbrella in the stand in the hall with the following inscription attached to it: "This umbrella belongs to a man who can deal a blow of 250-pound weight. I shall be back in ten minutes."

On returning to seek his property he found in its place a card thus inscribed: "This card has been left by a man who can run 12 miles an hour. I shall not come back."—Tit-Bits.

In Doubt.

"I don't know exactly what I had better do with this advertisement," said the man in the newspaper business office. "A politician wants to put in a long statement of his grievances as paid matter. How shall I classify it?" "I guess," replied the cashier, after some study, "we had better put it under the caption 'help wanted.'"—Washington Star.

Never Touched Him.

"It always does," said the woman, and the milkman drove off wondering why some people take such gloomy views of everything.—Detroit Free Press.

Greenland the Fatherland of the Mosquito.

M. Francis Du Barri, an adventurous French hunter who has just returned from a shooting trip in Greenland, says that he believes he has made a singular discovery, namely that this land of ice and snow is the fatherland of the mosquito, so numerous there are these winged pests. They are more harassing than the home product of New Jersey, but not so much so as the nervous complaints that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will promptly relieve. Through the instrumentality of digestion and assimilation improved by the Bitters, the nerves, no less than other portions of the human mechanism, acquire vigor and steadiness. The medicine also cures and prevents rheumatism, indigestion, malaria, kidney complaint and constipation, and build-up depleted physical energy. It imparts zest to the food and promotes nightly slumber. It is beneficial to the old, the young and the middle-aged, and is a tonic for those in delicate health. Convalescence proceeds without tardiness when it is used.

Men Who Lead

No Nervous Wrecks in the Front Ranks.

How Dr. Greene's Nervura Reinforces and Preserves the Human Army in the Battle of Life.

The world admires leaders. We may disagree with their opinions and oppose their causes, but we are invariably attracted by the peculiar strength of people who lead life's army. What constitutes leadership? It is not alone learning or character. It is nervous strength. It is the perfect physical, mental and moral health that comes from pure blood, the essence of life. Many bright people have more ambition than strength, and shine for a time like meteors in the sky of life, only to finally darken and die. It is not the dazzling meteors but the steady planets that move the world.

Dr. GREENE'S Nervura

is to mankind what gravitation is to the universe. It is the primary law. The seat of health is strength and vigor of nerves and purity of blood. Dr. Greene's Nervura acts directly upon both blood and nerves, and is the great health renewer. Exhaustion, dyspepsia, melancholy, insomnia and other miseries of mankind almost invariably arise from nerve and blood derangements, and are promptly and radically relieved by Dr. Greene's Nervura.

The office of Dr. Greene's remedies, 148 State St., Chicago, Ill., is open to you and skilled physicians are at your service with consultation, examination and advice absolutely free, personally or by letter. You are welcome to call or write.

The Prosperity Of Our Store Is Remarkable.

The business lines we follow make the increase of sales a surety. It's natural they should; they are sound, common sense, and appeal in every way to Shoe buyers. It is no small matter—this getting and retaining public confidence, and this, the one most necessary point in any merchant's business—confidence in your word; confidence in your goods; confidence in your prices. All of these any successful business house has and all of these we have.

We take good care of our trade and never disappoint them in any manner. We are selling all classes of Shoes at a lower price, on a closer margin, than we ever have before in the history of our business. Of course we make a profit but we are obliged to sell double the amount each year to make up the same profit of former years. We are doing even more than this. We find the plan increases trade to very large proportions. Every line in the house has been squeezed to the lowest price nytce. If you knew the exceeding small margin we make on many of them you would wonder at our rashness. But that's our business. Suffice it to say we are the lowest priced Shoe dealers in the city. This you can thoroughly believe.

It's a Pleasure

For us to show you through the Cloak stock, and it must be a source of satisfaction to you to know that there is such a strong line at your doors as we carry. People from out of town give us credit for showing much the best line in this section; and we doubt if Wisconsin can produce another cloak department with so great a display as ours. By great we do not mean floor space, but rather the number of new garments and the great variety of the styles. Controlling so many sample lines enables us at all times to show a large number of novelties so entirely at variance with ordinary lines that comparisons are out of the question. As regards price, it is so well known that we save you a third on every coat that the mention of it seems almost unnecessary.

That new-line of plush and velvet Capes offers some exceptional bargains. Russian Blouses are much in evidence, and they are a dressy garment—that is, the kind we handle are. Two new shipments added to the misses' line makes the display of young ladies' coats about as complete as it could be; these are also samples and priced accordingly—$2½ and up.

The Man With the Gladdest Smile!

IS THE MAN WHO BOUGHT A "GARLAND."

His smile commences when he buys the Garland; it broadens as the winter comes on and he finds he gets more heat with less coal than ever before; and his face breaks into a grin from ear to ear when winter is over and he comes to a full realization of Garland values.

GARLAND.

That Garlands are the stoves most universally used throughout the land is evidenced by the enormous sales each year.

WE ARE ON THE WAR PATH!

We want your stove trade; must have it; in fact, are entitled to it. Whether it be for a second-hand or a new stove makes no difference to us. We have been successful in selling ninety-nine out of every hundred stove customers this season so far; no reason why we can't sell you. No lower prices named anywhere than ours; no greater stove sellers in this part of the state than us. Most everybody is familiar with the line of stoves we carry, but for fear you may not know of them all, we will name them over Garlands, from $7 to $70, 1000 styles and sizes, the largest makers of stoves in the world; Jewetts, over two millions in use; Jewetts, three and one-half millions in use; Red Cross; Round Oak; Riverside Oak.

We would like to know if every woman would like to know how to save half the work in washing. If they will come to our store and examine the new BALL BEARING Bicycle Wringers and the WESTERN WASHER we can easily explain why these machines lessen work. You can always believe our every day talks. Lowell always does as he advertises.
